PHILLY SHOWCASE FRIDAY NIGHT SESSION
PROCEEDS WILL GO TO GREAT CAUSE

Nation's Preeminent Fall Recruiting Event Will Hold Special Friday Night Session at Cabrini College to Benefit Dan Carr Fund

The Philly Showcase is proud to announce that all proceeds from the Friday night event at Cabrini College will go to benefit Philadelphia lacrosse legend Dan Carr and help defray medical costs incurred in his ongoing battle against cancer.

On Friday, November 19, Showcase Lacrosse will present a series of games featuring some of the top boys club lacrosse squads and players in the Philadelphia area. Beginning at 7 p.m. there will be a round robin series of games between:

- Dukes Lacrosse Club
- Rebel Elite Lacrosse Club
- The Inter-Ac All-Stars

All proceeds from the night will be donated to the Dan Carr fund to assist with medical bills generated by Dan's ongoing battle against glioblastoma (brain cancer). Dan Carr is widely known in the Philadelphia lacrosse community as a great supporter and ambassador for the sport. Dan's kids Dan (sophomore goalie at Lehigh University) and Shane (junior attackman at Penn Charter) play or played lacrosse for Penn Charter and for the Dukes club team.

Said Showcase Lacrosse President Andy Hayes, "as a Penn Charter alumnus (class of '95) I have long known what a great person Dan is. When thinking about putting together this event featuring the Dukes, which is the club team the Carrs played for, the Inter-Ac All-Stars and Rebel Elite, who are also coached by a Penn Charter alum (Harry Sankey, Penn Charter '75), donating the proceeds to this great cause just seemed like the least we could do."

Those interested in finding out more about Dan's condition and donating to this cause can find out more at <http://dancarrfund.bbnw.org/>.
